Caroline is a Criminal Defence Solicitor in Manchester.

As a senior Solicitor in our Magistrates' Court Department based in Manchester, Caroline specialises in Youth Court work including applications for Anti-Social Behaviour Orders (ASBO's). Caroline is also qualified as an advocate with rights of audience in the Crown Court and Court of Appeal.

As a Youth Court Specialist, the scope of offences Caroline defends includes Robbery, Violent Disorder, Assault occasioning Actual Bodily Harm, Wounding and Sexual Offences; this list is not exhaustive but a sample of the type of matters Caroline regularly defends.

Understanding the many difficulties faced by youths and their families, Caroline takes a sensitive approach to her clients and ensures that they are treated with respect and compassion.

Caroline's understanding and sensitivity enables her to represent and advise her client's on a level they understand.

As senior Solicitor conducting trials on almost a daily basis, Caroline's experience and expert knowledge of all Youth Court matters means that she is able to take client's through the trial process beforehand in order to make them feel more comfortable about the whole experience.

Despite experience in niche practice area's, Caroline also appears in the Magistrates' Courts daily, representing clients from all walks of life in a variety of matters ranging from simple Theft, Criminal Damage, Public order offences to the more serious allegations of Rape, Murder, Complex Benefit Frauds and serious Drug offences. Despite her very busy Court schedule, Caroline still finds time to represent client's detained for a vast array of offences at the police station
