Luke joined Robin Murray & Co in 2007 and was made a Partner in 2010 before the merger with Tuckers in 2013. He is responsible for organising and maintaining our 24 hour police station cover as well as being our principal advocate at Medway Magistrates Court.

Luke is well known for his attention to detail and client care and is a highly respected advocate. He has represented clients facing a wide variety of matters including murder, rape and fraud through to more minor theft and public order matters.

Luke is also a road traffic law specialist.

With a family background in the military and having been educated at Duke of York's Royal Military School he has a strong interest in military matters and has acted for a number of service personnel in both the civil and military courts.

Luke's main interests outside of work are music; he is lead vocals and the bass player in a band and sport with a particular interest in American football as both player and spectator.
